

To whom it may concern:

I'm writing this letter to commend Femco Construction for their dedication towards building a successful partnership with MedQuest Associates.

Femco Builders has provided numerous years of construction services for a wide range of MedQuest projects, involving multiple modalities and manufacturers of diagnostic imaging equipment. These projects have ranged from constructing a complete new diagnostic imaging facility, to the smallest renovations of existing lease space.

To expand their healthcare services, Femco Builders recently invested in specialized employee training consisting of the design /build, testing, and repair of MRI shielding. Femco's thorough understanding of the unique and specialized characteristics involved with MRI construction; and now their ability to provide MRI shielding services, provides an expertise that is not typical of general contractors in the healthcare sector.

The conscious effort displayed by Femco to ensure minimal impact to our daily business operations; and the comfort of our patients and staff during the construction process is commendable and always appreciated. Femco continues to exhibit a true partnership in both business operations and providing quality patient care.

I look forward to our continued success working with Femco, and the benefit their expansion of services relating to MRI shielding will bring to MedQuest on future projects.

Sincerely,

Heidi Kirk
